

Western Ghats or Sahyadri Mountain range of India is a stretch of 1600 km parallel to the western coast of Indian Peninsula which is located in the states of Gujarat, Goa, Maharashtra, Karnataka, Kerala and Tamil Nadu. Its is also included in UNESCO's World Heritage Site and sometimes called Great Escarpment of India. They are very known for its protection of flora and fauna. The area shown here represents some of these places on Western Ghats of India.

*	Attraction
Ø	Cafe
1	Clothes Store	Å
T]	Restaurant
	Hotel
	Memorial
Ð	Police Station
8	School
?	Tourist Information Centre
jese (Tower	\mathcal{C}
*	Viewpoint

Indira Gandhi Wildlife Sanctuary (WLS) and National Park (NP) is a protected area in the Annamalai hills of Pollachi and Valparai talukas of Coimbatore district in Kerala and Udulalaipettai taluka of Tiruppur district in Tamil Nadu of South India. It is well known for protecting species of Eleplants and Tigers. Parambikulam Wildlife Sanctuary adjacent to Indira Gandhi Wildlife Sanctuary is for protecting Tiger species.

Wildlife Protected Areas of Western Ghats in South India

Hospital

Temple

River

Primary Road Minor Road

Waterbody

National Park/Wildlife Sanctuary

Inset Map Location of Study Area in South India

Indira Candhi (Annamalai) WLS

TAMIL NADU

Mt. Kallar Mt. Podu

Mt. Peratt

Mt. Thanakku

Mt. Oosimalai

KERALA

Date Created: 28 June, 2022 Prepared using ArcGIS Pro, Avenza Mapublisher, Adobe Photoshop Geographic Imager and Adobe Illustrator. Made By Mansi Shah

Topobathy 2022/ Esri Living Atlas Wildlife Protected Areas, India State Boundary 2021/ Esri Living Atlas Landuse, Roads, Waterways OSM Global Dataset/ Retrieved June 2022 from http://download.geofabrik.de/ Natural Earth Vector data for places, points of interest, Retrieved June 2022 from https://www.naturalearthdata.com/downloads/ Landsat 8 bands 2,3,4 and 5/2013 USGS Earth Explorer Wikipedia

Coordinate System: WGS 84 / UTM zone 43N

12 Kilometers

Scale 1:80.000

Source: